Deadline for application – Wednesday 23 September

Review of Marking

Before applying for a Review of Marking, you should note:

- component results can go up, down or stay the same – this means that your overall grade can also do the same.
- on average, reviews only result in a change of 3 or 4 marks – and they, more often than not, do not change at all.
- component results do have notional grade boundaries, but these are irrelevant when considering a review of marking. You must check your Award Grade Boundary, to see if you are close to the next grade up.
- if having two (or more) components in the same subject reviewed, it is entirely possible that one of the reviews could take the total mark above the award grade boundary, whilst the second review brings it back under again.
- the outcome document you will receive from the awarding body will only indicate the overall mark for the reviewed component(s) it will not show any changes to marking at the question level – if question level information is required, you must request an EAR2S Review of Marking, plus a photocopy of your reviewed script or EAR2PS Review of Marking, plus a photocopy of your reviewed script service.
- All reviews of marking include a copy of the reviewed script.

Information for candidates

The following information explains what may happen following a clerical re-check, a review of marking and any subsequent appeal.

If your school or college submits a request for a clerical re-check or a review of the original marking, and then a subsequent appeal for one of your examinations after your subject grade has been issued, there are three possible outcomes:

- Your original mark is lowered, so your final grade may be lower than the original grade you received.
- Your original mark is confirmed as correct, so there is no change to your grade.
- Your original mark is raised, so your final grade may be higher than the original grade you received.

To proceed with the clerical re-check or review of marking, you must sign the form below. This tells the head of your school or college that you have understood what the outcome might be, and that you give your consent to the clerical re-check or review of marking being submitted.

In giving consent I understand that the final subject grade and/or mark awarded to me following a clerical re-check or a review of marking, and any subsequent appeal, may be lower than, higher than, or the same as the result which was originally awarded for this subject.
